Roads Scholar National Course Rally

and

Badger Burrow National Tour Rally

May 20 & 21, 2017
Madison, Wisconsin

Roads Scholar National Course Rally on Saturday will be a scenic 180 mile rally through the marvelous country roads west of Madison, Wisconsin. Designed for experienced rallyists who are familiar with the RRR's, it will have a fixed main road rule (Onto, Protection, T-rule, SAP) and use both Numbered and Lettered route instructions. It will not have Aristotle traps or 'Absence of the sign' traps. The course uses both paved and high quality unpaved roads that are fun to drive. Speeds are moderate. The emphasis is on course following, great roads, and beautiful scenery.

Badger Burrow National Tour Rally on Sunday will be a scenic 180 mile Tour rally with an emphasis on brisk driving on spectacular country roads. Much of the course will run in transit zones allowing you to enjoy the scenery and drive at your own pace rather than having to be on time all the time. This rally is designed to be enjoyed by both first timer contestants as well as experienced rallyists.
