SUMMARY OF PROTEST AND APPEALS AT THE 1990 SOLO II NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

The following summaries appear in class order, rather than in the order in which they were submitted. When two car numbers appear in the protests, two drivers were competing in the same car. Appeals are listed following the protest in question.

SS 80 PROTESTED BY SS 119 for backdating of complete 1987 engine to a 1986 car. Competitor disqualified due to not delivering car to Protest Committee. Car 80 in SSL was also disqualified.

CS 2, 4, 62, and 104 PROTESTED BY IMPOUND INSPECTOR for having removed heating system from cars. Protest disallowed. Protest Committee could not determine illegality of heater system removal per section 11.10E of Solo II Rules.

DS 72 PROTESTED BY DS 71 cylinder head shaved beyond manufacturers limit. Cylinder was measured and found to be within spec. Protest disallowed.

DS 5 PROTESTED BY DS 71 for cylinder head shaved beyond manufacturers limit. Cylinder was measured and found to be within spec. Protest disallowed.

DS 91 PROTESTED BY DS 71 for shims placed under cam carriers to increase valve lift. Cylinder head was inspected and no shims were found. Protest disallowed.

ES & ESL 33 PROTESTED BY ES 61 for transaxle final drive ratio. Protest disallowed.

ES & ESL 33 PROTESTED BY Protest Committee during inspection of 33 ES & ESL. Protest Committee found firmer engine mount bushings. Committee determined firmer engine mount bushings are an advantage, but rule 11. paragraph 4 was not clear in their opinion. No action taken.

ES 61 APPEALED PROTEST COMMITTEE not penalizing for firmer engine mounts on car ES & ESL 33. Appeal allowed. Competitors disqualified.

ES & ESL 33 APPEALED PROTEST COMMITTEE decision that engine mounts were non-standard. Maintaining testing procedure was not accurate. The engine mounts were tested by a professional lab for rubber hardness and spring rate. Results showed spring rate was over 100% higher than stock and hardness was over 20% on a durameter. Appeal denied. Competitor remains disqualified.

GS & GSL 92 PROTESTED BY GS 43 for turbo boost exceeding manufacturers specifications. Turbo boost was checked under full load and proved to be within spec. Protest disallowed.

GS 43 PROTESTED BY GS 86 for illegal modification to the cylinder head. Protest withdrawn.

GS & GSL 92 PROTESTED BY GS 6 for air conditioning compressor removal but not removing other items associated with the air conditioning and as a result would allow car to operate cooler. Protest disallowed.

CSP & CSPL 92 PROTESTED BY CSP 104 for compression ratio, non-stock pistons, camshaft timing and specifications, valve spring pressure, valve spring shims, and block deck height. Protest upheld. Compression ratio, valve spring length, ports, valves, pistons, head thickness, deck height, bore and stroke were within spec. Cam lobe height was under spec. Shims were found under all valve springs. Competitor disqualified.

CSP & CSPL 92 APPEALED PROTEST COMMITTEE decision on camshaft and valve spring shims. The Appeal maintains that shims under valve springs are allowable to bring springs up to manufacturers service limit and that manufacturer does not specify minimum cam lobe height. Camshaft lobes were measured .061 to .070 under spec. Appeal denied. Competitor remains disqualified.

ESP & ESPL 77 PROTESTED BY ESP & ESPL 76 for removing inner wheel wells/splash guards from front of car. Protest upheld. No penalty imposed, because total weight saved by removal was two to three pounds total weight. Competitor must reinstall them before competing again.

ESP & ESPL 76 APPEALED PROTEST COMMITTEE decision not to impose a penalty on FSP & ESPL 77. Protester claims modification was a performance advantage. Appeal Committee upheld Protest Committees decision. Appeal denied.

ESP & ESPL 24 PROTESTED BY IMPOUND INSPECTOR for a non-stock bumper and nose piece made of fiberglass. Protest disallowed.

CHIEF OF IMPOUND APPEALED PROTEST COMMITTEES decision on ESP & ESPL 24. Appeals Committee overruled Protest Committee feeling that the weight reduction was significant. Appeal upheld. Competitor disqualified.

AP 46 PROTESTED TIMING & SCORING for assessing a pylon penalty to this third run. Pylon was hit by a previous car and not detected by corner worker. Car 46 did not stop at downed pylon and penalty was mistakenly given to car 46. Protest upheld, pylon penalty was removed.

AP 99 PROTESTED TIMING OF CAR AP 85. Car 85 improved time by 2.2 seconds. Car 99 protested questionable circumstances under which car was timed. Protest disallowed, Protest Committee could not recreate any time glitches.
